

New OPAL Presentation: All About Microfiche

A new presentation has just been added to the GPO OPAL archive. This presentation provides a general overview of the process by which microfiche is distributed to selecting libraries in the Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP). Topics covered include a discussion of FDLP tools that libraries can use to monitor their microfiche selections. The audience for this presentation is library staff who manage and handle Federal depository library material being processed for inclusion in library collections.
